

The core ingredients of a good PhD journey

Jo Angouri

University of Warwick

This workshop will unpack the process of designing and carrying out PhD research, while, at the same time, making the most of a PhD programme for personal, professional and academic development. We are going to unpack and discuss core milestones and the different guises and meanings of opportunity and success (and demystify failure). We will workshop “target setting” and strategies for succeeding and coping with the pressures and conflicting priorities and needs which constitute normal part of the journey.
